

Arts and Aging: How Creative Expression Can Benefit Older Adults

Speaker: Deb Del Signore, ATR-BC, Art Therapist and Educator

This program explores the impact of the intersection of arts and aging on the lives of individuals, communities and society at large. Examples of art therapy in practice with older adults will shed light on the historical, psychological, relational and social reasons why art making within aging is a great fit.

Presentation open to community members and professionals.

Join us at our Arts & Aging Conference to learn about the positive impact the arts have on aging and discover the variety of creative outlets available for older adults, their families, caregivers and professionals.

The Garlands of Barrington
1000 Garlands Lane
Barrington, IL 60010

Wednesday, May 16, 2018

Conference: 4:00pm - 7:00pm

Arts & Aging CEU Presentation: 5:30pm - 6:30pm

Complimentary Dinner, Exhibits, and Door Prizes

Advance registration for the Arts & Aging presentation is requested to ensure enough seating for all.

To RSVP, please call 847-462-0885 or email Events@Elderwerks.com.

1.0 CEU credit will be available to Illinois registered nurses, social workers and professional counselors.

