

ETHICS IN HEALTHCARE

TUESDAY,
SEPTEMBER 19, 2017

5:30 PM - Registration/Dinner

6-7 PM - Presentation

Available for 1 hour CE credit

Ethics and ethical behavior include more than just following the law! It involves social norms, standards of conduct and moral decision making. All of this leads to some important recommendations as to prescribed standards of behavior for practitioners.

Come hear a lively, interactive presentation by experienced Elder Law Attorney Nancie Dorjath, who will help define key issues in ethics, and more importantly help you develop standards of conduct that work today and tomorrow! Using real life situations and case study examples, Nancie will clearly identify the sticking points that many face each day. You will also learn about legal and ethical obligations and come away with a better understanding of ethical issues in healthcare.
